

Without even thinking in a habitual manner, couples often relate and react to one another without really assessing the situation for what it is, and so words are exchanged that only add fuel to the fire!

So what do you do when you realize that this is your struggle? How do you break those destructive habits? What does the Word of God have to say about these matters? Maybe you've tried and tried, prayed and prayed, and yet still you struggle.

BOOT CAMP FOR THE MARRIED WOMAN'S SOUL®, is a Bible study designed to especially encourage the married woman to: RECAPTURE RECONNECT, and REDIRECT, her approach to biblical marriage.

There are seven separate lessons on topics which are specific and unique to marriage. You will be challenged by tough questions you probably have never asked yourself before. You will be given insightful perspectives that are unique to both men and women. You will also have practical Daily Homework which will help you incorporate into your marriage relationship what you have just learned. This study is excellent for small groups but can be done on an individual basis.

Also available, BOOT CAMP FOR THE MARRIED WOMAN'S SOUL LEADERS EDITION®. This is a helpful manual for those who want to host and lead a study session.
